Sixty-Fourth Commencement

MONDAY

THE TWENTIETH OF MAY

TWO THOUSAND TWENTY-FOUR

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

May 20, 2024

Dear Graduates,

Today marks not just the end of a chapter, but the beginning of a remarkable journey. As you stand on the threshold of your future, I want to personally commend each and every one of you for your dedication, perseverance, and unwavering commitment to your education.

This moment is not just about academic achievement; it's about your dreams, aspirations, and potential to make a difference in the world. As you move forward, you may find yourselves grappling with doubts and uncertainties. But let me assure you that you are more than capable. You have already demonstrated your ability to overcome challenges and rise above adversity. Trust in your strength, resilience, and capacity to achieve greatness.

Your diploma or certificate is not just a piece of paper; it's a symbol of your resilience, determination, and ability to achieve the impossible. It's a testament to your readiness to tackle whatever challenges come your way.

Above all, never forget the importance of diversity and inclusion. Celebrate the unique perspectives, talents, and experiences that each individual brings to the table. Together, we have the power to create positive change and build a brighter future for all.

And remember, no matter where life takes you, RCC will always be here to celebrate your successes, support you in your endeavors, and cheer you on every step of the way.

Congratulations, graduates. Felicidades. Felistasyon. Mazel Tov. Go forth and conquer the world!

Best regards,

Lester Sandres Rápalo, EdD, MBA, MA

Edwin J. Day
Rockland County Executive

May 20, 2024

Dear 2024 Graduates:

With great joy and admiration, I extend my heartfelt congratulations to the exceptional graduating class of Rockland Community College.

Your resilience, determination, and dedication have brought you to this momentous occasion. Despite facing unprecedented hurdles, you have persevered, demonstrating remarkable strength and fortitude. Balancing academic pursuits with personal responsibilities and, for many, employment obligations, you have exemplified the true spirit of perseverance.

This milestone is a steppingstone towards a world of limitless possibilities. The skills, knowledge, and experiences gained at RCC have equipped you for the journey ahead, whether it be further academic pursuits or entry into the workforce.

As you embark on this new chapter of your lives, I encourage you to reflect on the magnitude of your accomplishments. Each of you possesses the potential to make a profound impact on the world, armed with the education and determination to succeed.

May your futures be bright, filled with prosperity, fulfillment, and boundless opportunities. As you pursue your dreams, remember the unwavering support of your families, friends, and educators who have guided you along the way.

Congratulations Class of 2024, on your well-deserved success.

Sincerely yours,

Edwin J. Day
Rockland County Executive

GRADUATION POEM

Remember

By Dr. Meghan P. Nolan

When you've been climbing so long
It is easy to forget
to assess your surroundings—

Flowers seem to distract you for hours;
the tall trees obstruct your view ahead.
Soon you are lost among a dense fog,
groping toward some unknown precipice.
It is easy to forget
Light and love in such times of great stress,
but that is when you must do your best
to

Remember how you got here.

Through the long hours of preparation,
and innumerable implications,
the panic and confusion—
Remember those who supported you,
and those who discouraged too!
Because if it weren't for them,
you would not have pushed as hard.

Then, immediately forget it...
All
Because all you have is this moment.

When you emerge on the peak
surveying a crimson sky
proud, but perhaps a little weak,
it's easier to see the flowers and the trees for what they are—a part of you.

So, remember,
this is not your crowning achievement,
but rather the first climb of many.
You're stronger now.
And, you'll do it again.

The College Symbols

There are three key symbols of Rockland Community College that express the history and tradition of the College. The special occasion of Commencement is distinguished by the use of these meaningful symbols.

The Chain of Office

The Presidential Chain of Office of Rockland Community College consists of ten frames, alternating with round links made up of concentric initials “RCC” and displaying the map of Rockland County on the right side of the circle. Each of the frames illustrates one of the ten academic programs and carries in the center a globe flanked by olive leaves, indicating the College’s contribution to world peace through its strong emphasis on community service.

The front of the chain shows the frames for the Liberal Arts, Health Sciences, Engineering, Performing Arts, Nursing and Natural Sciences programs, and the pentagonal medallion depicting the College Seal. The medallion also pays homage to the community that Rockland Community College serves, with the green acrylic representing the County colors and the rocks flanking the pentagonal frames depict the beautifully-rugged Hudson River shore line.

In the center of the back of the chain is a shield showing the map of Rockland County surrounded by an engraved inscription and five rays, which are symbolic of the Business Administration, International and Criminal Justice programs.

The chain was designed and made by Kurt Matzdorf, Professor Emeritus of Gold and Silversmithing at the State University of New York College at New Paltz.

The Seal

The Seal of Rockland Community College brings together the relationship with the State University of New York. The gold plated State University of New York seal surrounded by the inscription “Rockland Community College” shows the heritage of the school.

The Mace

The ornamental staff, which serves as the official symbol of Rockland Community College, is a gift from the Rockland Community College Foundation. The Mace symbolizes the College’s governing authority and is only used in proceedings that have official sanction.

The Mace was designed and crafted by silversmith and sculptor Harold Schremmer of West Warwick, Rhode Island. It is a study in diverse and contrasting wood, metals, texture and color. At its crown is a bronze medallion displaying the Rockland County seal on one side and the New York State seal on the reverse. Beneath the crown is a sterling silver glove with a ring of thick metal letters spelling "Rockland Community College, 1959." The wood staff is sculpted from decorative Purple Heart wood in a non-glossy oil finish. The Mace's counter balance is of copper and bronze in a dark patina. The segmented form was designed to convey the feeling of the original medieval mace design.

History of Rockland Community College

A look back at the history of Rockland Community College reveals an institution that has grown deep roots in the community for more than half a century. From its inception, Rockland Community College was envisioned as an institution that would serve all of the residents of Rockland County, but in particular those who, for a variety of reasons, lacked the opportunity to pursue higher education. Based on the doctoral thesis of Ramapo Central School District Superintendent Lester E. Rounds, and through the work of the Rockland County Community College Committee, the College became a reality in 1959. Sponsored by the Rockland County Board of Supervisors, approved by the State Department of Education and supported by local and state funds, Rockland Community College's first students attended classes in the former Rockland County Welfare Home (now the Administration Building – Brucker Hall).

The College's responsiveness to the community was reflected in the variety of courses, schedules and mix of students when it opened its doors on September 30, 1959. Some students were homemakers with children to care for. One was a woman who had never completed high school because she had lived in Africa during her teens. Of the men, seven were beyond "traditional" college age, some were veterans and some were disabled. A few were recent immigrants who had completed high school equivalency requirements. An additional ten-percent of that class was comprised of students who had withdrawn from four-year institutions.

As is underlining the word community, the initial schedule of day classes was promptly expanded to include evening and weekend classes for a working adult population every bit as eager to learn as the younger "traditional" student. Today, that same prompt recognition of, and response to, student interests and needs remain the hallmark of Rockland Community College.

In addition to the main campus in Suffern, the College offers conveniently located learning opportunities throughout Rockland County. The Haverstraw Center is home to our 3D Printing Smart Lab, Community Education Programs, and Business Services Mall. The Herbert Kurz Automotive Technology Center in Orangeburg offers specialized career training in a state-of-the-art facility, and the Hospitality and Culinary Arts Center in Nyack, incorporates the newest ideas in the culinary arts.

The Division of Economic Mobility and Workforce Innovation at Rockland Community College offers a portfolio of in-demand workforce and career development programs designed to prepare learners for a new economy, connect learners to economic opportunities, and solve employer talent needs. This includes microcredentials, industry-specific workforce credentials, and community education programs available to all, from young adults graduating high school to older learners looking to upskill.

Starting with a full-time enrollment of 139 men and women who risked a new and untried school more than half a century ago, Rockland Community College has become a focal point in the educational, cultural and economic life of the region. In the best and truest sense of the word, “Community” remains its middle name.
