OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

May 18, 2026

Dear Graduates,

Congratulations on achieving this extraordinary milestone.

Today, as we gather for Commencement, I invite you to pause and truly take pride in what you have accomplished. This day represents dedication, determination, and a deep commitment to your goals. You earned this moment, so please enjoy it. I also encourage you to thank those who supported you along the way, including your families, friends, faculty, staff, and classmates, because even the most personal journeys are shaped by others.

This ceremony holds special significance for me as well, as it is my first Commencement as President of Rockland Community College. I am honored to celebrate with you and inspired by your resilience, your curiosity, and your belief in the power of education to transform lives. RCC's mission has always been rooted in access, opportunity, and student success, and you are living proof of what is possible when talent meets commitment and support.

You leave RCC not only with a credential, but also with the values that matter most here: excellence, engagement, collaboration, social consciousness, and innovation. Wherever your path leads, whether into the workforce, further education, or community leadership, know that Rockland Community College will always be part of your history and a resource you can return to, both professionally and personally.

Once again, congratulations, Class of 2026. We are proud of you, and we look forward to all that you will accomplish. Thank you for allowing us to be part of your journey.

Sincerely,

Dr. William P. Mullaney
President
Rockland Community College

Dear 2026 Graduates:

It is with immense pleasure that I join your families and friends in sending my heartfelt congratulations to the 2026 graduating class of Rockland Community College.

You and your class have completed your studies, despite balancing a job and other personal responsibilities, and each of you should be extremely proud of achieving this milestone, a tough feat under even the best of circumstances.

What you have accomplished is truly impressive and I urge you to take time to reflect on the hard work and commitment that has guided you to this moment. Remember that this is only the beginning as your new chapter filled with endless opportunities awaits.

Whether you decide to join the workforce or further pursue your education, I know you gained all the skills necessary at RCC for whatever comes next.

It is my sincere hope that you all have a bright and successful future, find happiness, and, most importantly, I wish all of you the best in your careers.

Congratulations to the Class of 2026 on your well-deserved success.

Sincerely yours,

Edwin J. Day Rockland
County Executive

Dear Graduates,

Congratulations on reaching this important milestone. Your hard work, perseverance, and commitment have brought you to this moment, and you should take great pride in all you have accomplished.

This milestone also belongs to those who supported you along the way - your families, friends, faculty, and mentors. Their encouragement helped carry you to this day, and it's important to recognize the role they played in your success.

Now, an exciting new chapter begins. Whether you're continuing your education, starting a career, or exploring new opportunities, step forward with confidence. You've proven you can overcome challenges and rise to the occasion - carry that momentum with you.

The future is full of possibility, and it needs your ideas, your energy, and your drive. Don't be afraid to take risks, to keep learning, and to make your mark in ways both big and small.

The road ahead may bring challenges, but it will also bring opportunities. Approach both with confidence and purpose.

Rockland County is proud of you, and we can't wait to see what you do next. Wishing you continued success in all that lies ahead.

Sincerely,

Dear Graduates,

Congratulations. Today is yours, and you have earned it

I grew up just down the street, and I know that for many of you, the path to this moment was not easy. You worked, you balanced, you pushed through, and in doing so, you built something far more valuable than a transcript. That perseverance is not a footnote to your degree. It is the most important thing you carry with you.

My career in public service taught me that the moments that shape you most are rarely the ones you planned for. They are the ones who ask more of you than you thought you had. When I was first elected to the New York State Senate, I did not have all the answers. What I had was a commitment to show up, to listen, and to keep going when it was hard. That is still the best advice I know.

Stay curious when the path gets uncertain. Stay adaptable when things do not go as expected. And do not be afraid to take risks in pursuit of something that truly matters. The most meaningful careers are rarely the most comfortable ones.

The world needs people who lead with integrity, who listen before they speak, and who understand that real leadership is about service, not status. It needs people who are willing to step outside of their comfort zone in order to make a genuine difference in their communities. That is what I have tried to do throughout my career, and it is what I hope you will carry forward from this place.

Whatever comes next, bring your whole self to it. The credential matters, but the character behind it matters more.

Wishing you every success in all that lies ahead.

Warmly,

David Carlucci, '00

The College Symbols

There are three key symbols of Rockland Community College that express the history and tradition of the College. The special occasion of Commencement is distinguished by the use of these meaningful symbols.

The Chain of Office

The Presidential Chain of Office of Rockland Community College consists of ten frames, alternating with round links made up of concentric initials “RCC” and displaying the map of Rockland County on the right side of the circle. Each of the frames illustrates one of the ten academic programs and carries in the center a globe flanked by olive leaves, indicating the College’s contribution to world peace through its strong emphasis on community service.

The front of the chain shows the frames for the Liberal Arts, Health Sciences, Engineering, Performing Arts, Nursing and Natural Sciences programs, and the pentagonal medallion depicting the College Seal. The medallion also pays homage to the community that Rockland Community College serves, with the green acrylic representing the County colors and the rocks flanking the pentagonal frames depict the beautifully-rugged Hudson River shore line.

In the center of the back of the chain is a shield showing the map of Rockland County surrounded by an engraved inscription and five rays, which are symbolic of the Business Administration, International and Criminal Justice programs.

The chain was designed and made by Kurt Matzdorf, Professor Emeritus of Gold and Silversmithing at the State University of New York College at New Paltz.

The Seal

The Seal of Rockland Community College brings together the relationship with the State University of New York. The gold plated State University of New York seal surrounded by the inscription “Rockland Community College” shows the heritage of the school.

The Mace

The ornamental staff, which serves as the official symbol of Rockland Community College, is a gift from the Rockland Community College Foundation. The Mace symbolizes the College’s governing authority and is only used in proceedings that have official sanction.

The Mace was designed and crafted by silversmith and sculptor Harold Schremmer of West Warwick, Rhode Island. It is a study in diverse and contrasting wood, metals, texture and color. At its crown is a bronze medallion displaying the Rockland County seal on one side and the New York State seal on the reverse. Beneath the crown is a sterling silver glove with a ring of thick metal letters spelling “Rockland Community College, 1959.” The wood staff is sculpted from decorative Purple Heart wood in a non-glossy oil finish. The Mace’s counter balance is of copper and bronze in a dark patina. The segmented form was designed to convey the feeling of the original medieval mace design.

History of Rockland Community College

A look back at the history of Rockland Community College reveals an institution that has grown deep roots in the community for more than half a century. From its inception, Rockland Community College was envisioned as an institution that would serve all of the residents of Rockland County, but in particular those who, for a variety of reasons, lacked the opportunity to pursue higher education. Based on the doctoral thesis of Ramapo Central School District Superintendent Lester E. Rounds, and through the work of the Rockland County Community College Committee, the College became a reality in 1959. Sponsored by the Rockland County Board of Supervisors, approved by the State Department of Education and supported by local and state funds, Rockland Community College's first students attended classes in the former Rockland County Welfare Home (now the Administration Building – Brucker Hall).

The College's responsiveness to the community was reflected in the variety of courses, schedules and mix of students when it opened its doors on September 30, 1959. Some students were homemakers with children to care for. One was a woman who had never completed high school because she had lived in Africa during her teens. Of the men, seven were beyond "traditional" college age, some were veterans and some were disabled. A few were recent immigrants who had completed high school equivalency requirements. An additional ten-percent of that class was comprised of students who had withdrawn from four-year institutions.

As is underlining the word community, the initial schedule of day classes was promptly expanded to include evening and weekend classes for a working adult population every bit as eager to learn as the younger "traditional" student. Today, that same prompt recognition of, and response to, student interests and needs remain the hallmark of Rockland Community College.

In addition to the main campus in Suffern, the College offers conveniently located learning opportunities throughout Rockland County. The Herbert Kurz Automotive Technology Center in Orangeburg offers specialized career training in a state-of-the-art facility, and the Hospitality and Culinary Arts Center in Nyack, incorporates the newest ideas in the culinary arts.

The College also offers a portfolio of in-demand workforce and career development programs designed to prepare learners for a new economy, connect learners to economic opportunities, and solve employer talent needs. This includes microcredentials, industry-specific workforce credentials, and community education programs available to all, from young adults graduating high school to older learners looking to upskill.

Starting with a full-time enrollment of 139 men and women who risked a new and untried school more than half a century ago, Rockland Community College has become a focal point in the educational, cultural and economic life of the region. In the best and truest sense of the word, "Community" remains its middle name.
